EMPLOYEE RECOGNITION AWARD

March 2024

EMPLOYEE: Maggie Driver
UNIT: Cannabis Regulation and Enforcement
TITLE: Environmental Scientist
SUPERVISOR/TITLE: Jason Schroeder, Sr. Engineering Geologist

Maggie has exceeded all expectations in this position as a new Environmental Scientist in the Cannabis Program. She is diligent, understands how to research and interpret the Cannabis Policy and General Order, asks excellent and thoughtful questions, is light-hearted and pleasant to be around, and has been a steady source of productivity in a very challenging program. Maggie has also proven herself to be agile and organized in the field. She balances great customer service with the firm application of regulations.

She is being recognized specifically for her efforts on the enforcement case triage project where she quickly and efficiently reviewed more than 150 sites via satellite imagery to categorize open cases in low, medium, and high risk to water quality based on site specific features. She tabulated results in a color-coded spreadsheet which will inform our decision making on sites we intend to administratively close, those that require active case management, and sites that will require on-the-ground follow up.

Maggie is a huge asset to our office, program, and unit.
