NOTICE OF REGIONAL BOARD INFORMATION ITEM CONCERNING REGULATION OF FOOD PROCESSING WASTE DISCHARGES TO LAND IN THE CENTRAL VALLEY REGION

Solid and liquid wastes from food processing industries (including canneries; meat, fruit and vegetable packing houses; cheese manufacturers; and wineries) contain significant quantities of organic matter, nutrients and salts. In the Central Valley Region, the majority of these facilities treat and dispose of their waste by discharge onto land. Groundwater monitoring at many discharge sites has produced data demonstrating significant groundwater quality impacts from salts and nutrients in the wastes and from minerals leached from the soil by overloading of organic matter.

Regional Board staff has developed a proposed regulatory strategy for food processing waste discharges to land intended to address existing deficiencies and prevent future water quality impacts. The strategy is consistent with existing policies and regulations and is founded on scientific principles and accountability.

Staff is bringing this proposed strategy before the Regional Board to allow opportunity for public and industry comment as to the deficiencies and proposed changes, and to obtain support from the Board that this change in direction, or some modified form of it, is necessary to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of our regulatory programs as they apply to food processing waste discharges to land.

An information item concerning this matter will be brought to the Regional Board during the next regular meeting, which is scheduled for:

DATE: 28 January 2005
