Hello,

Writing to register my thoughts with the current policies and future decisions regarding Valley water.

1. People and food should always have priority over misconceived notions that we are necessarily in charge of saving all species of fish and insects. While no one would wish to intentionally harm the environment, most of our current policies are misguided at best and ferociously malignant at worst in their attempts to hurt farmers and the Valley.
2. Let's keep the water here and see if that improves the food production and employment levels in the Valley. Why not err on the side of food, people and farmers?

Thank you for hearing my thoughts,

Sincerely,

Tina Jimenez, Realtor
