

Dear Mr. Muller,

The group, Clean Water Action, has brought it to my attention that the cleanup level for water in the S.F. Bay will be at a level of 100 pieces of trash per 100 ft. sq. Surely we can do better than this. The bay is not only a source of recreation and beauty, but it is more importantly the environment for many species of aquatic and bird life, which are already severely depleted due to habitat loss. It will serve the human as well as wild life populations well to have stricter regulations on pollution. I'm sure this is achievable.

I'm believe you too are concerned with the well being of the bay as a natural resource and a beautiful area for living and recreation. Please work to keep this environment clean.

Thank you for your time,

Chuck Squier
