Hi Eric-

Thanks for considering this. We have a consultant team working on a group effort to present a strategic monitoring and assessment approach that builds on the framework in the ROWD, but we will not have a draft until 6/15. We see this as being an important aid to a productive discussion for the first workshop topics. I know the schedule is subject to Lewis' availability and other factors, but basically any time in late June for the first workshop would be great.

Also, we thought this may be reasonable b/c by dropping the last placeholder workshop, it wouldn't push the ultimate deadline for comments that the County proposed.

Let me know if you want to discuss.

Thanks, -Drew

Hi Eric,

Thanks for your time this afternoon. As a follow-up to our call, Drew and I were calling (at least attempted to conference call) to discuss proposing a slight alternative to the meeting schedule that the County proposed. Many of the Copermittees met today and some were concerned with a June 6th start date.

We are proposing to maintain the overall proposed schedule by having only one wrap-up workshop on September 5th and starting the first of two Planning, Prioritization, Reporting and Assessment meetings on June 27th.

I understand that Board staff still needs to secure meeting space and confirm availability of the meeting facilitator so none of the proposed dates are set in stone at this time.

Thanks for your consideration. Please contact me or Drew know if you have any questions.

Any updates from the Riverside or Orange folks?

Mikhail
