

From: Melanie Ravizza
To: commentletters
Subject: Permanent Water Use Restrictions
Date: Tuesday, November 21, 2017 1:18:28 PM

By all means, let's impose restrictions on the populace even when there is no valid reason to do so.

Another example of government intrusion into our lives.

Common sense says that these restrictions are necessary during drought conditions, but unnecessary during normal weather conditions.

Instead, maybe we could build more water retention projects; such as reservoirs & dams.

By the way, why weren't the dams repaired during the time when water levels were low.

Sincerely,

Melanie Ravizza