COMMENT LETTER
SUCTION DREDGE MINING

In regards to the effects of suction dredge mining on water quality. I have found that the water clears rapidly after coming out of the dredge sluice box. Also we remove lead and mercury from the water each day we dredge. I think dredgers help with the water quality. We also remove foreign metal. I also think there are more than enough laws and rules to enforce on dredges now. We are good keepers of the water and environment. We remove anything we can. Take with us that does not belong.
