Subject: Underwater Suction Dredging

This is so wrong , I've read all the reports from both sides that I could find , from both sides , very few from the anti dredging side , and can find nothing but opinions & assumption , But many form all kinds of agencies with lots of facts that say as long as its regulated like it is to avoid sponging . I see this as corrupt government , letting frivolous law suits go on like this , to keep there jobs . I know it no longer common , but I would hope that your could find some sense , and make a logical decision .
Thanks John Faughn
