To Whom it May Concern,

I am a mother of 3, homeowner and business owner on the Klamath River which flows right below our property. We started and sold an online plant nursery, still raise native plants for restoration work, and have an online nursery that sells propagation wood. I have lived here with my family for 22 years. Every year we watch the water heat up and the bluegreen algae explode. I support removing all the 4 dams as quickly as possible to improve and save the health of indigenous elders, the river water, the salmon and build resilience for our rural communities. I watched my son get sick when he was young and we were new to the river, after he gulped a bunch of water and then quickly looked sick and in an hour or two spiked a fever. I want our children to have a future with fresh clean water and salmon in it. I want them to see that we can make good healthy choices with sound science and indigenous wisdom behind them. That we value the environment and the health of people who live in it. That we cherish clean water as something precious and irreplaceable. That we need healthy fish so we can stay healthy and nourished as the indigenous people here did for centuries. Please continue to work to remove these dams, and quickly. It is the only way, our lives depend on it.

Thank you,

Corrina Cohen
